"Thinking About..." Personal Blogs (10%)

Every week students will produce a short, personal blog post that only they and the instructor will see. These personal blogs should take roughly 15 minutes to write, and can be on any topic or idea the student is thinking about given that week's readings, discussions, and topics. Thinking abouts are due Tuesdays before class. They are pass/fail.